Off-Campus Host House Night's Tonight

Crowd Prevents Illness Excuses

Students individual requests for excuses for illness cannot be honored, according to Dr. Richard V. Lee, director of the SIU Health Service.

The time element prohibits such a practice, he said. The waiting room is already overcrowded with sick patients, he continued, and students who are well but are seeking excuses for previous illness would only miss other classes while waiting.

Many students who are seen and treated each day are hospitalized or confined to their residence, and their names are placed on an "illness list" daily, Lee said.

He suggested that instructors seeking information about a student telephone or call the Health Service

SIU Interpreter's Theatre To Give Two Performances

Interpreter's Theatre will present "The Sound of Literature" at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the Morris Library Auditorium, according to Marion Kleinau, assistant professor of speech.

Each presentation on the program is given by an undergraduate student with a graduate student as its director.

"The program consists of a group of short literary pieces in an Interpreter's Theatre style," Mrs. Kleinau said.

The program for Friday: "Noon Wine" by Katherine Anne Porter, directed by Loise Shadley.

"Man, Woman Eternity" by Mark Twain and the Bible, directed by Ray Ewing.

"G.B.S. and Mrs. Patrick Campbell" Letters, directed by Glenda Clyde.

The program for Saturday: "Lilly Daw and the Three Ladies" by Eudora Welty, directed by Elizabeth Missakan.

"A Man's Conflict" by Thurber, Sandburg and others, directed by Jim Rocky.

"A Separate Peace" by Frank Knowles, directed by Howard Streifford.

The admission is free. All students and faculty members are welcome.

Caresse Crosby On Campus:

Avant-Garde Publisher Of 1920s Is Markswoman And Rancher

Expert markswoman, avant-garde publisher ... cattle rancher, inventor of the brassiere...the woman who introduced Salvadore Dali to America...

These are some of the achievements of Caresse Crosby, who will visit the SIU campus today.

Today's visitor resides in the 430-year-old castle of Roccasinibaldi in Italy.

She and her husband Harry, nephew to J.P. Morgan, sailed for Paris in the early 1920's and it was there they established the Black Sun Press. This press was one of the urgent creative expressions of the most creative decade of this century--the twenties.

Mrs. Crosby has written of the Black Sun Press' origin in her autobiography, "The Passionate Years (1953): "We know that some day we must see our poems in print--it did not occur to us to submit them to a publishing house--the simplest way to get a poem into a book was to print the book!"

The Crosby's were soon publishing the works of other avant-garde writers, some of them already recognized, and others destined to become celebrated names. The Black Sun Press brought forth the early poems of Archibald MacLeish and the early stories of Kay Boyle; and it first published Hart Crane's "The Bridge."

The library of SIU has acquired Mrs. Crosby's Black Sun Press collection. This includes, not only all books, in their various editions, some of this century's most beautiful and exciting examples of book production, but important (and unpublished) holograph letters and manuscripts from many outstanding artists and writers. Included are hundreds of letters and many manuscripts.

Cooperative Work Program Has Openings Next Quarter

The student work office in conjunction with the Alton Box Board Company is sponsoring a "Cooperative Student Work Program" for students interested in the management field.

The program, which began in the spring quarter of 1963, has openings for next quarter.

Bruno Bierman and Harold Reents, program supervisors, have instituted a schedule under which qualified students attending SIU alternate full-time work and a full-time academic study in a quarterly basis.

"This program is still in its infancy but the success has been very good," Reents said.

Bierman added, "In brief, the program is one that requires certain quarters of classroom work and then quarters off the campus working in industry. This enables a student to gain experience before graduation with a liberal paycheck each week which can be used to further his education."

Any student interested in this program should speak to either Bierman or Reents at the Student Work Office.

Students who have completed work sessions and are back in school for more class activities are James Handley, Robert Keleher, John Yokley, Gary Ashby, Roger Sparks, Mervin Oliver and Donald Harper.

Michael Hart, Robert Tapscott and Jesse Billings are spending the present quarter in Alton on the work portion of the program.

Early Sectioning Urged By Treece

Marion B. Treece, head of the Sectioning Center, has urged all students to be sectioned before Nov. 27.

Students who are not sectioned before this date will be compelled to take their fee statement to the bursar for immediate payment.

'ONCE IN AWHILE THEY START TO MEET, BUT THEN...'

Red Terrorists Bomb Saigon Military Units

Saigon, South Viet Nam—Communist terrorists have been sent into Saigon to blow up government and U.S. military installations and kill American personnel, Vietnamese security sources said Tuesday.

Eager to discredit the new military regime, they have thrown usual caution aside and are recruiting any persons who say they support the Communist Viet Cong cause, the informants added.

Consequently, agents of the Vietnamese security forces have been able to infiltrate the Communist recruiting program to pry out secrets and clear the way for crushing the new terrorist campaign.

Bomb explosions in Viet Nam's capital are occurring at the rate of at least one a day.

One explosion Sunday night in a downtown Saigon open air restaurant wounded three U.S. servicemen.

The Viet Cong are known to be recruiting taxi drivers, hoodlums, beggars and others, security sources said, and given three days training in explosives handling and then sent back into Saigon.

Along with the terror campaign in the cities, the guerrillas are striking hard in the countryside.

Guerrillas attacked a big Vietnamese military outpost at Ealuo, five miles from Laotian border, killing 10 defenders and wounding 34 on Monday, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

Government planes launched air strikes against the guerrilla positions and ranger units were airlifted into the area. No guerrilla losses were reported.

U.S. Plotting In Cambodia, Prince Says

Phnom Penh, Cambodia—Prince Norodom Sihanouk has charged U.S. officials with a hand in plotting against his neutralist government and told a cheering rally Tuesday that American aid was being used to undermine him.

Sihanouk's previous threat to end all American assistance by Dec. 31 was endorsed by thousands of his supporters at a special public congress of his political party. The prince is Cambodia's chief of state.

In Washington, the State Department said it has been notified the prince intends to request immediate cessation of all U.S. aid. The department also repeated its denial that the United States was involved in any plotting against Sihanouk.

Anti-American signs appeared throughout the city.

In a tactic reminiscent of Fidel Castro's Cuba, Sihanouk paraded two political prisoners who said they had conducted anti-government activities in a strategic hamlet in neighboring South Viet Nam under control of U.S. military advisers.

They said Radio Free Cambodia transmitters were set up in such villages. One prisoner said he was supplied with a transmitter by U.S. officials and even given a telephone line linking him with South Vietnamese military authorities.

Personal Income Rises $3 Billion

Washington -- Personal income rose $3 billion in October to a record annual rate of $470.3 billion, the Commerce Department announced Tuesday.

About one-third of the increase was attributed to a military pay raise.

The new income peak was $5 billion above the average for the previous three months and was $22.5 billion or 5 per cent higher than in October 1962.

Leaving military pay out of the consideration, the increase was approximately the same as the monthly average for the first six months of 1963.

Personal income includes wages and salaries, net income of small businesses and farmers, dividends and interest and other types of individual income.

Man Questioned On Explosion Near Alabama U. Dormitory

Tuscaloosa, Ala.—A white man was questioned by police Tuesday about an explosion four blocks from a University of Alabama dormitory occupied by a Negro coed. The man, A.L. Richey, 40, of Tuscaloosa, was picked up near the scene of the blast which was the third within three days in this university city.

Richey denied knowledge of the explosions.

Police Inspector Henry Butler said Richey told officers he had parked and fallen asleep in his pickup truck when the blast went off shortly after midnight Tuesday. Richey said he had been to a tavern.

"So far his story checks out," Butler said.

In Richey's truck, police found a shotgun and two newspapers which carried accounts of two earlier explosions. Richey told police he had the gun because he intended to trade it.

The Negro coed, Vivian Malone, and another Negro who later withdrew, desegregated the university last June. The bombings were the first signs of violence.

After Tuesday's explosion, more than 300 persons gathered at the coed's dormitory. Butler said they apparently were curiosity seekers, and left on orders of a university official.

About 30 windows in nearby buildings were shattered.

University sources said the campus security force was the strongest it had ever been. Federal marshals continue to maintain a watch over Miss Malone.

Police Chief W. M. Marable said the bombings were an attempt to "stir up something because things are stale-mated."

Two explosions occurred Saturday. The first went off one block from Miss Malone's dormitory which is on the edge of the campus. The second was about three miles from the campus and in a Negro residential area.

Storms Swamp England, Wales

London -- Gale - driven rainstorms swamped 10 counties in England and Wales Tuesday, flooding thousands of acres of farmland and blocking major highways.

Storms that ravaged the country during the last 48 hours moderated somewhat inland, but still battered coastal areas of Britain and parts of the European continent.

Worst hit were the southern counties of England, notably Sussex and Kent.

Authorities called a general alarm in West Sussex as rivers broke their banks, spilled across farmlands and flooded roads.

KENNEDY PLANS HOLIDAY

Washington -- President Kennedy will spend Thanksgiving Day at the traditional Kennedy family gathering at Hyannis Port, Mass., the White House said.

The Kennedys gather for the holiday at the home of the President's father, former ambassador to England Joseph P. Kennedy, whose sprawling ocean-front house is the center of a family compound at Cape Cod.

The President expects to go to Hyannis Port some time Wednesday, Nov. 27, the day before Thanksgiving.

AFL-CIO Kills Bid To Admit Teamsters

New York--The AFL-CIO killed a move to readmit the controversial Teamsters Union, saying it had not applied for readmission.

AFL-CIO President George Meany gavelled through the vote Tuesday over shouted protests from the floor by Teamsters supporters.

Meany, referring to Teamster President James R. Hoffa as "this character," said the AFL-CIO would give fair consideration at any time the Teamsters wanted to apply properly for reaffiliation.

The Teamsters, kicked out of the AFL-CIO in 1957, did not make any application, but there were resolutions by several AFL-CIO groups including the Building Trades and the Maritime Union to invite the Teamsters back in.

Meany said his position on Hoffa was not a question of personalities.

"I don't know this man... the personal invective you hear from time to time has all been from one side."

The Teamsters were expelled from the AFL-CIO on charges of corruption.

Local Weather Advice? 'Nuts!'

Get set for a cold winter. That's the latest weather advice, straight from the squirrel's mouth.

If you say "Nuts!" to that, you've got the message. That's the key word in the long-range forecast.

Even before the Old Farmer's Almanac is off the press, our local furry friends are gathering acorns like crazy—a sure sign of a long, cold winter.

For another thing, the acorns in Thompson Woods are bigger than ever this year—another bad omen for Southern Illinois.

If you are still skeptical, then consider the fact that groundhogs are stuffing themselves to four times their normal size, fish are diving deep for winter-proof water, birds are fluttering about faster than usual, the wind is howling at a higher pitch, and even the Saluki dogs are growing an extra-heavy coat.

If you don't like acorns, then invest in an extra shot of anti-freeze, check the snow shovel, sharpen the ice skates and buy some longies.

Letter to the Editor:

Girls, You Helped To Kill Chivalry

The Pennington Survey proved rather interesting. SIU men now know that many of them fall short of the Woody Hall concept of a gentleman.

I contend that many SIU coeds lack many qualities required of a true lady. To attempt to define what a lady is would be presumptuous; it is something more than the best definition, something personal—which the true lady is aware of. Whatever this quality is, a certain set at Southern sorely lacks it.

To cite an example: some men don't believe in holding doors for coeds; "door-holding," as a pastime, is declining. Why? In nine cases out of 10, the girl benefiting from this courtesy will glance suspiciously at the relatively innocent holder as if he were trying to make a pass. Many times he has the urge to shout after her something like: "Believe me, honey, you couldn't interest me if you were wrapped in $50 bills."

To what avail? After many thankless and somewhat humiliating "door-holds," he often feels the urge to let the door slam just at the right second to assure the young woman there exists no threat to her "honor."

In her unremitting and somewhat ungraceful surge toward equality, modern woman has partly forfeited her previously justified claim to chivalrous treatment. Door-holding and other such considerations no longer remain the unchallengeable privileges of women. They are courtesies, demanding recognition as such.

We will admit that chivalry is very nearly dead—but you, "ladies," must confess your hand in the execution.

Can't We Do Something To Relieve Chaotic Registration Conditions?

My beef I'm sure is familiar, but to me it's new and warrants being voiced. Many students mutter about the problem but no one raises his voice above a whisper. Why? This is a democracy, isn't it?

The problem, in general, is questionable efficiency in administration of student affairs—more specifically, the chaos around registration time. I realize this student body is evergrowing, but other institutions with larger enrollments seem to cope with the problem more efficiently.

I am a transfer student and attended two other schools, one with 30,000 students. They finished registration in one-third the time it takes here. They also afforded students a certain amount of personal attention I find entirely absent here. Is such bureaucratic, impersonal regimentation of policy the only solution?

Every quarter or so, the Daily Egyptian announces new strides are being taken in sectioning, advisement and registration, yet every quarter seems more hectic than previous ones.

Is SIU growth so quickly rendering obsolete all these innovations? Aren't we allowing sheer quantity to dilute quality? Is the University outgrowing itself?

I have no panacea for the problem. My job here is student, not administrator. But does that include facing some antagonistic, monolithic monster called "University policy" at every turn? If's everywhere; registration only serves as an example.

Maybe after a few more quarters of indoctrination I, too, will become submissive and wander in muttering passivity, driving about the injustice being done me. I haven't reached that point yet, however. Can't something be done?

Rod Connell

Viva Saporin! He's the best "hatcher" man in the area! His cartoons are the spices in the nourishing, but sometimes tasteless dish the Daily Egyptian sets before us.

The Egyptian is better for having him, regardless of whether his fancy may deflate the balloons of Goldwater, Martin Luther King, Kennedy, Nick Pasqual, or the Student Council.

Just say "sic 'em" and turn him loose. Trust his wit and judgment and you have a blue ribbon winner on your hands.

Larry McDonald

The Goldwater fans shouldn't be too critical of the "Conscience of a Conservative" cartoon. After all, how was the Daily Egyptian to know that "Goldwater for President" isn't just another elephant joke?

Defaced Image of America

Nothing was deplored more by John F. Kennedy during his campaign for the Presidency in 1960 than the alleged "loss of national prestige" by the Eisenhower administration. On television and radio and in other public statements, those who supported Mr. Kennedy's candidacy wept loudly and long about our ostensibly defaced image.

"Under Republican leadership," Mr. Kennedy said in New York Oct. 20, 1960, "our prestige has fallen so low that our Latin American allies are no longer willing to follow our leadership in the fight against communism in this hemisphere."

The loss of prestige, dreamed up for its obvious political value, was based upon equally imaginary causes. Among them were the "missile gap," which somehow vanished the instant Mr. Kennedy took the oath of office; the "space lag" that was equally ephemeral; the weakening of our national security and the alienation of friends abroad.

NATO Thoroughly Weakened

That all these charges eventually proved to be hogwash hardly need be said, but what the self-appointed experts themselves did to our image is factual and far surpasses the harm done by any other administration.

In Europe, NATO has been so thoroughly weakened by New Frontier insults and attacks on its member nations that its prospects for survival are dim. England was buffeted and slammed about with such actions as our discontinuance of the Skybolt missile program, which condemned the British bomber fleet to obsolescence; France has been rocked by our hanky-panky plays with the Soviet Union over the test-ban treaty and disarmament; Belgium was slapped around when we cracked down, as Nikita Khrushchev demanded, on Katanga's Moise Tshombe and threw that hapless nation into the red-infiltrated and corrupt Central Congolese government; Portugal was insulted by Adlai Stevenson in the United Nations on the Angola and Goa issues; Holland was repeatedly affronted by us when we forced Dutch New Guinea to forget its hope of self-determination and sold it into virtual Indonesian slavery; West Germany was snubbed in our apathetic handling of Berlin, and Spain was neglected to the extent that we are hardly on speaking terms.

Desire to 'Buy' Friends

In Africa, we have offended all the pro-western nations in favor of the "emerging" neutrals which somehow continuously side with the red bloc, denounce us in the United Nations and continue to accept our largesse, given in the blind and long-disproved desire to "buy" friends.

Our Asian policies have forced upon pro-American Laos a "troika" government under the leadership of Prince Souvanna Phouma, again as demanded by Khrushchev, thus flanking our own troops in South Viet Nam. In the latter nation, we have attacked the government we supposedly are supporting with arms.

Pakistan and Kashmir have been alienated by our handling of anti-western India. Australia and New Zealand are miffed with us because of our kowtowing to Indonesia. The SEATO alliance is a shambles.

Thruout Latin America we have been a laughing stock since a comparatively unarmed Cuba soundly kicked the daylight out of a United States-sponsored invasion force at the Bay of Pigs.

Obviously, the New Frontier cannot keep its most frequently and loudly voiced campaign pledge—to improve our image abroad—for that image has been destroyed. A complete reconstruction is in order and it should not be left to established incompetents.

Women's Team Makes Debut At Friday Gymnastic Meet

The brand new Southern Illinois Women's Gymnastics Team will get an acid test in its first scheduled meet here Friday night, when the local gals meet the University of Illinois Gymkana. Starting time in the SIU Men's Gymnasium is set for 8 p.m.

Runner-up in both the 1963 USGF National Championships and the Midwest Open Championships, the Illinois club will be hosted by the Saluki lasses in the first dual women's gymnastics meet ever to be held in the Midwest.

Included on the list of events are the uneven bars, free exercise, vaulting and balance beam. In the uneven bars, the most difficult and spectacular of the women's program, the skills of the men's parallel bars and horizontal bar are combined.

Free exercise is an event very similar to the men's event except that it is performed with music and blends the difficult and daring tumbling stunts with balletic movement.

Of principal interest to the contestants is the All-Around score.

DONNA SCHAEZNER

The All-Around final placement is crucial, for it is this total score which may earn the right for the individual to ultimately represent her country in international competition such as the Olympic Games.

Under the direction of coaches Herb Vogel and Richard Mulvihill, the Saluki representatives are aiming for a team victory in their opening performance here.

Six girls staff the competitive team of the local club, although a total membership of nearly 50 young women has been achieved in this baptismal year.

Two of the team members are SIU students, while the other four are students at Carbondale Community High School. Donna Schaezner, 1963 USGF National All-Around Champion, 19 and an SIU sophomore, and Brigitta Gullberg, 22, SIU freshman, was the third-ranking woman gymnast in Sweden when she left in January.

Gail Daly, 17, is a prep senior and a two-time national All-Around titlist in Canada. Irene Haworth, 17, a member of Canadian women's teams in the World and Pan American Games, and Janis Dunham, 17, second in the USGF meet in Chicago, are also seniors. Sophomore Judy Dunham, 15, was the Midwest Open All-Around champion last December.

Rabbit Season Opens Saturday; Limit 5 Per Day

The 1963 rabbit season will begin at sunrise Saturday and end at sunset, Jan. 31, according to William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Hunting hours are from sunrise until sunset.

Hunters may take five rabbits a day. The possession limit is 10 rabbits, except that on the first day of the season both limits are the same, five.

No upland game hunting will be permitted in the 58 counties open to deer hunting during the second portion of the deer season, Nov. 29-30 and Dec. 1.

Game management technicians report that hunters probably will see more rabbits this season than they did last year. An increase over last year's crop of young rabbits was noted in Southeastern and Northeastern Illinois in July.

Jim Hart To Undergo Surgery On Knee Injured At Toledo

Jim Hart, Morton Grove sophomore, who sparked the SIU offense this year until picking up an injury last Saturday at Toledo, will undergo surgery late this week, confirming earlier reports that he would not play the last game of the season.

Hart received a knee injury in the first quarter of the game at Toledo, in the scramble that followed an interception of one of his passes. The ligaments in his knee were torn, making the surgery necessary.

Hart was taken to Carbondale Clinic Sunday night and was examined by doctors Monday.

Loss of the Salukis' star quarterback takes a good deal of the passing power away from the Southern pro-type offense. Hart has completed 72 passes for 1,036 yards in his nine games, completing just one for 13 yards before being bounced out at Toledo. He had already surpassed the single season record for net yards gained passing, which had been 991 by Joe Huske in 1953.

He also had established a new single season touchdown pass mark, firing 14 scoring aerials in the first eight games.

Hart was the second offensive sparkplug to be lost to the Salukis this season. Rushing leader Rich Weber bowed out after six games with a smashed cheek bone. He still leads the Saluki rushing statistics, and could win the individual rushing title, although not playing the last four games.

President Advises SIU Staff On Fund-Raising Projects

The role of the University Development Committee in fund-raising projects at SIU is outlined by President Delyte W. Morris in a special bulletin to the faculty.

All University staff members are requested to channel their fund-raising projects through the committee in order to achieve the objectives determined, and to secure the special assistance that is available, President Morris wrote.

The committee was formed in the spring of 1961 following a 1959 professional study and analysis of potential sources for financial support, and recommendations for the most effective coordination and integrated management of solicitations by University personnel.

The committee has the responsibility of coordinating all fund-raising activities for SIU and it has been meeting monthly since its organization, the president's letter stated.

The committee was recently expanded to include W. J. Tudor, director of area services, chairman; Kenneth R. Miller, executive director of the University Foundation; Robert Odaniel, director of alumni records and services; John Anderson, coordinator of research and projects; Samuel Taber, acting coordinator of student financial assistance; Bill Brown, assistant athletic director; Warren Stookey, field representative; Thomas Evans, supervisor of student affairs; and Webster Balance, assistant coordinator of research and projects, who is committee secretary.

"The committee serves as a resource and coordinating team organized to assist various divisions of the University with their fund-raising endeavors and to provide a united front to the wide variety of sources for financial assistance to the University," the president's letter stated.

Theft Of Whiskey Results In Fine

The Office of Student Affairs reported it is studying a case involving an SIU student who was fined Saturday for the theft of a bottle of whiskey and for damaging a door at the ABC Liquor Store, 109 N. Washington St., in Carbondale Friday night.

The student, Phillip N. Dodd, 21, of Arlington, Va., was fined $100 and court costs and ordered to pay $125 to the store for replacing the door. According to investigating officers, Dodd grabbed a bottle of whiskey from a shelf and ran through the plate glass door. He was not injured.
